

Certified Peer College Advisor (CPCA) Sponsorship Letter

To Whom It May Concern:

_____ needs your help. Through their hard work and determination, this student has earned a seat in the CPCA Training and Certification Program to become a Certified Peer College Advisor (CPCA), hosted by the National Association of Peer College Advisors (NAPCA). This student has demonstrated a desire and commitment to empowering their peers to break through their barriers and take ownership of their future education and career goals while breaking down their own barriers to success. With your help, they can break down one more barrier: the cost of attendance to the program.

Admitted students will learn a wide range of college and career readiness topics while attending classes taught by NAPCA faculty and staff at the CPCA Training Facility located in Southern California. This student has also been awarded a scholarship covering the cost of tuition for the program. Through your sponsorship, you can cover part or all of this student's remaining costs in the amount of _____, allowing them to attend the program and setting them on the path to success.

Donors can make a donation online or by mailing a check or money order to the NAPCA Office of Charitable Donations. Online Payments can be made at www.NAPCAonline.org/online-payment. Please include a note indicating the name of the student for sponsorship, and please make checks payable to NAPCA Foundation. Your contribution is tax-deductible. Thank you for your support.
